

MUSEUM DOCENT TRAINING

Saturday May 14 & Saturday May 21, 2016

☞ 10am to 4pm both days ☛

Do you enjoy history? Would you like to learn more about Prudence Crandall and then teach others what you know?

Are you over the age of 14? Become a Docent!*

☞ May 14 - Bev York, Museum Educator, will discuss innovative and tried-and-true ways of greeting visitors, meeting their needs, offering quality experiences and helping them get the most out of what the Museum has to offer.

☞ May 21 – Participants will attend the Symposium, “Lives and Legacies: Prudence Crandall’s African-American Students...Part 2.” The day will focus on the young women who attended the academy 1833-1834.

☞ *The cost to participate is $25.00 ☛
(Includes materials and Ticket to the Symposium)

For more Information or to Register,
Please call The Prudence Crandall Museum at:
860-546-7800

*Note: Docents are required to work at the museum at least 1 day each month from May through November, and additional training days during the season.